

Lyft Information Request Report - 2015

This annual report provides information on the types and volume of law enforcement information requests Lyft, Inc. (“Lyft”) received in 2015.

Subpoenas. Subpoenas are valid and binding legal demands for information or testimony issued by courts, lawyers, law enforcement agencies, or grand juries, usually without any substantive review by a judge or magistrate. Lyft produces non-content information only in response to valid and binding subpoenas that have either been served through our agent for service of process or sent to the e-mail address LER@lyft.com. Lyft does not produce content information in response to subpoenas. Lyft objects to overbroad or otherwise inappropriate subpoenas as a matter of course. Lyft will often follow-up with the sender of the subpoena should compiling the information in response to the subpoena be overly burdensome.

Search Warrants. Search warrants may be issued by local, state, or federal courts upon a showing of probable cause and must specifically identify the place to be searched and the items to be seized. Lyft may produce non-content and content information in response to valid and binding search warrants. Lyft objects to overbroad or otherwise inappropriate search warrants as a matter of course. As previously mentioned, Lyft will often follow-up with the sender of the search warrant should compiling the information in response to the search warrant be overly burdensome.

Other. Other refers to valid and binding court orders and summons issued by local, state, or federal courts, other than search warrants or court-issued subpoenas. For example, we may receive a court order, obtained by a government entity, seeking to remove user content or accounts. Such removal requests are reported separately in the statistics below. Lyft’s responses to other court orders depend on the nature of the request. Lyft objects to overbroad or otherwise inappropriate orders as a matter of course.

Content v. Non-Content Information

Non-content. “Non-content” information means subscriber information such as name, address, e-mail address, billing information, date of account creation, and certain account history and service usage information.

Content. “Content” information means the communication of users through the Lyft platform.
