The ACM Special Interest Group on Applied Computing (SIGAPP) offers practitioners and researchers the opportunity to share mutual interests in innovative applications, technology transfer, experimental computing, strategic research, and the management of computing. This SIG also promotes widespread cooperation among business, government, and academic computing programs. Symposium on Applied Computing (SAC), SIGAPP's annual conference, provides a forum for presentation of the results of strategic research and experimentation. SIGAPP members receive CD-ROM proceedings of the SAC.

The Association for Computing Machinery (ACM) is an educational and scientific computing society which works to advance computing as a science and a profession. Benefits include subscriptions to Communications of the ACM, MemberNet, TechNews and CareerNews, full and unlimited access to online courses and books, discounts on conferences and the option to subscribe to the ACM Digital Library.
