

Dear colleagues of Division E,

I hope you are all doing well.

The IAUGA 2022 XXXIst has finished two weeks ago and here are a few news that I would like to share with you:

IAU 2022 General Assembly

The Division Days were a success. All speakers were present either remotely or in-person. The connectivity was fine and the online platform worked very well.

Five out of the seven PhD Prize winners were present in-person and received their certificates at the end of the Division Days. Two of them attended remotely. All their talks were really encouraging and showed their strong compromise with research.

PhD Prize winners holding their certificates. On top Camilla Scolini and Jenna Samra, both attending remotely. Below and from left to right: Cristina H. Mandrini (President Div. E), Munehito Shoda, Gopal Hazra, Prantika Bhowmik, Reetika Joshi, Souvik Bose, and Sara Gibson (past Div. E President).

For those who have registered either remotely or in-person, all talks and posters will be available in the GA online platform (<https://www.iauga2022.org>) until 11 September this year.

Reminder: Announcement for deadline of Letters of Intent for 2024 Symposia

Please, notice that September 15th is the deadline for Letters of Intent (Lol) for scientific meetings to be held during the next IAU GA year, 2024.

These meetings will comprise 6 GA Symposia, 12 GA Focus Meetings, and 3 non-GA Symposia.

You are encouraged to formulate ideas for these GA meetings with your colleagues. Please, read carefully the Rules & Guidelines for IAU Scientific Meetings before preparing the Lol (<https://www.iau.org/science/meetings/rules/>).

The IAU looks forward to receiving your Lol.

Please feel free to contact me with any questions or comments on Division E activities.
